Opinions and positions expressed in the signed material are those of the author and may not necessarily reflect those of the Stark County Bar Association, its officers, staff or board of editors.

From Our President

Honorable Andrea M. Scassa
President, Stark County Bar Association

Every so often a criminal case grips national media headlines and puts the criminal justice system in full view for analysis. If said case happens to go forward to a jury or bench trial, coverage is continuous from the courtroom to legal analysts discussing the case during evening news shows. Unfortunately for the families involved, cases that garner this type of attention generally have some horrific elements to the evidence. The most recent criminal case to receive this level of attention was the Lindsay Clancy trial, in which the defendant was charged with the murder of her three small children. I will admit, I did not follow this case all that closely until the end. After the jury came back multiple times, indicating they were deadlocked, I began to pay attention to the manner in which the judge handled the jury's deliberations. Once the judge determined that the jury just could not come to a verdict, I was intrigued by defense counsel's unconventional attempt to prevent the judge's decision of a mistrial by filing an emergency appeal to the Massachusetts Supreme Court. Some commented that it was a "hail Mary" on behalf of the defense, as the only option the defense had to avoid a mistrial when it appeared the jury may have been leaning in favor of the defense. Although the appeal was ultimately unsuccessful, it reminded me of how attorneys frequently have to argue outside the box, in that gray area, when representing clients. Law school teaches students to analyze legal conundrums through case study, however, there is truly nothing as instructive as real world experience. One can read all about a jury trial, from voir dire to verdict, but the actual experience of being in the courtroom, in front of a jury, is unlike anything I learned in school.

Recently I had the opportunity to meet with Judge Michelle Cordova and several young lawyers as part of the Bar's Lunch with a Judge program. Over lunch, Judge Cordova and I discussed the everyday practice of law, beyond what is taught in law school, with attorneys John McLendon of the Stark County Prosecutor's Office, Arden Strider of the Stark County Public Defender's Office, and Bryce Harvey of Milligan Pusateri. I truly enjoyed speaking with these bright, energetic attorneys, offering insight and a few points of practical advice. This gathering also reminded me of how impactful mentors, whether through a formal program or a casual lunch, can be in the everyday practice of our profession. All three attorneys shared an enthusiasm for their respective roles as attorneys, and I truly hope they continue to engage actively with the Bar Association to strengthen their ties to the legal community.

Speaking of strengthening our legal community through engagement...

October is Pro Bono Month! We are fortunate to have many members who volunteer their time to help those in their time of need. On Monday, October 5th, Community Legal Aid is sponsoring a complimentary pizza lunch and FREE Professionalism CLE at the Bar Association as a thank you to all those attorneys who continually support Legal Aid. All are welcome to attend for pizza and professionalism!

Please reserve your spot at the Bar Golf Outing on Thursday, October 15th at The Quarry. This annual event is a great way to get outside and relax, on the patio at The Quarry being a wonderful setting to end the evening.

I respectfully ask you to attend this year's Memorial Service on Thursday, October 29th in the McKinley Room of the Stark County Courthouse. Please join us in remembering the lives of our fellow colleagues who have passed through thoughtful stories and shared experiences.

Looking ahead to November, the Young Lawyer's Committee is sponsoring a New Lawyer Training on Thursday, November 19th from 11:30 am – 1:00 pm with the Stark County Law Library. Attorneys admitted to the Bar five years and less are complimentary, those of us more seasoned attorneys are welcome as well for a small fee. More information is listed in the Journal.

As we are well into autumn, the holiday season will be here before we know it. Make your plans now to attend the Holiday Party on Friday, December 4th at Brookside County Club. I know I am looking forward to it!

New Members Save with a Stark County Law Library Membership

By: Sarah Brinkman, Library Assistant inform@starkcountyohio.gov

In September, public libraries around the country celebrated National Library Card Sign-Up Month. This October, the Stark County Law Library would like to get in on the fun! If you've ever considered becoming a member of the Stark County Law Library, now is the perfect time to give membership a try. New members joining in October and November will receive their memberships through the end of 2027, making the final months of 2026 free! Still on the fence? Check out some of our member benefits below!

New and Expanded VitalLaw Access
September saw an expansion of our access to VitalLaw. We now offer remote access to the full VitalLaw collection available through our subscription. Browse topics or use the search feature to find exactly what you need. Find primary sources, laws and regulations, or use practical content guides for a quick refresher.

Stark County Law Library members can access VitalLaw remotely from anywhere. See all of our available remote-access resources on the Law Library website in the Member Research area.

Legal Databases
Whether you're working in the library or remotely, we offer database options to meet a variety of research needs. The Law Library maintains subscriptions to both Westlaw and Lexis+, which are available for use within the library. Use our dedicated computers or access Westlaw on your personal device while you're in the library.

Even if you are not able to make it into the library, your Law Library membership still gives you access to case law and statutes. Clio vLex (formerly Fastcase) contains resources from all 50 states and federal jurisdictions, allowing you to conduct research from the comfort of your home or office. Members are also able to request cases, statutes, and even book chapters to be emailed directly to them.

And More!
Members can borrow library materials, including physical books and items from our expansive digital collection. For tips and tricks on getting the most out of digital checkouts through Lexis and ABA eBooks, see our article in the August issue of the Stark County Bar Journal.

Members also enjoy free printing at the library, free use of our conference room once a month, and access to our newsletters and journal email lists.

For just $50 a year, you can unlock new research possibilities and powerful resources to support your practice. Experience all these benefits and more with a Stark County Law Library membership.

New Member Registration Deal!
Registration is as easy as filling out the membership application. Memberships are $50 and are valid through the end of the calendar year. New memberships will be credited through December 2027, receiving the final months of 2026 for free!

Learn more at: https://starkcountyohio.gov/government/legal_judicial/law_library/members/membership.php

Email us at inform@starkcountyohio.gov with any questions or to request the membership application.
